DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Application

Claims 15-28 are pending.

Applicant's preliminary amendment canceling claims 1-14 as submitted in a communication filed on 9/25/2006 is acknowledged.

It is noted that claim 28 is dependent upon claim 6, which has been canceled. For restriction purposes, the claim has been interpreted as lacking any reference to claim 6. Applicant is advised that this claim should be amended if the elected invention contains this claim.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 14-22, drawn to a method of making a type II restriction endonuclease having altered specificity.

Group II, claim(s) 23, 28, drawn in part to a single type IIG endonuclease CspCI isolated from Citrobacter species 2144, and a method to obtain said endonuclease by culturing Citrobacter species 2144.

Group III, claim(s) 24, drawn to a DNA encoding a single CstMI restriction enzyme.

Group IV, claim(s) 25-27, drawn in part to a DNA encoding a type II restriction endonuclease having altered specificity, vectors and host cells comprising said DNA.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1652

3. According to PCT Rule 13.2, unity of invention exists only when the shared same or corresponding special technical feature is a contribution over the prior art. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept because they lack the same or corresponding special technical feature. The technical feature linking Groups I-IV is a type IIG endonuclease, which is shown by Rimseliene et al. (Journal of Molecular Biology 327:383-391, 2003) to lack novelty or inventive step since Rimseliene et al. teach a type IIG restriction endonuclease (Eco57I) as well as the modification of said restriction endonuclease to obtain a mutant with altered specificity (Abstract and Introduction). Thus, the technical feature does not make a contribution over the prior art and the claimed inventions do not meet the requirement of unity of invention under PCT Rule 13.2.

4. According to PCT Rule 13.2 unity of invention exist only when there is a shared same or corresponding special technical feature among the claimed inventions. The protein of Group II, the nucleic acid of Group III, the nucleic acid of Group IV, and the method of Group I lack a shared same or corresponding special technical feature since the technical feature of Group II is a wild-type type IIG restriction endonuclease CsPCI, the technical feature of Group III is a DNA encoding a CstMI restriction endonuclease, the technical feature of Group IV is a DNA encoding a mutated restriction endonuclease with altered specificity, and the technical feature of Group II is a method of making a type II restriction endonuclease having an altered specificity which does not require the DNA of Groups III or IV, or the protein of Group II. Therefore, none of these special technical features is shared by or corresponds to any of the inventions of Groups I-IV.

5. The Examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

Art Unit: 1652

6. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

9. Information regarding the status of an application may be obtained from the Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) system. Status information for published applications may be obtained from either Private PAIR or Public PAIR. Status information for unpublished applications is available through Private PAIR only. For more information about the PAIR system, see <http://pair-direct.uspto.gov>. Should you have questions on access to the Private PAIR system, contact the Electronic Business Center (EBC) at 866-217-9197 (toll-free).

10. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Delia M. Ramirez whose telephone number is (571) 272-0938. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday from 8:30 AM to 5:00 PM. If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Dr. Nashaat Nashed can be reached on (571) 272-0934. Any inquiry of a general nature or relating to the status of this application or proceeding should be directed to the receptionist whose telephone number is (571) 272-1600.
